Monthly Revenue Trend

Traffic Volume vs Conversion Rate

Recommendation: April 2017 generated $2.1M in revenue, about 1.75x higher than the monthly average, while December 2016 reached the strongest conversion rate at 7.15%, about 1.6x higher than the average. Review April’s product mix and order values, then apply learnings from December’s higher-converting traffic to improve lower-performing months.

Conversion rate by channel

Recommendation: Organic Search brought 255K sessions, nearly 49% of total traffic, but converted at only 1.58%. Referral converted at 12.19%, about 7.7x higher than Organic Search, while Direct generated the highest revenue at $5.9M. Keep Organic Search as a reach channel, but study Referral and Direct traffic patterns to improve purchase intent and optimize Organic landing pages for conversion.

Recommendation: Product strategy should separate volume drivers from revenue drivers. Google Men’s Vintage Badge Tee generated 702K units, but Nest® products drove far higher revenue, with the Nest® Learning Thermostat generating $870.7K. Review high-view products with 0% order rates, such as the 22 oz YouTube Bottle Infuser with 137.7K views and no orders, to identify pricing, product-page, or purchase-intent issues. Since the United States contributes about 95% of revenue, use it as the core market while testing growth opportunities in Canada and other smaller markets.
